

Safety rules for visitors to Yoho's U Pull It salvage yard:

- Wear suitable clothing: There are sharp objects and heavy parts everywhere in a salvage yard. Be sure to wear appropriate clothing to protect your hands, feet, and eyes. If possible, you should wear construction gloves, steel toe boots, and safety glasses. If you want to be extra safe, you can even consider wearing a hard hat.
- Follow the rules and regulations: All customers must abide by the rules and regulations of Yoho's U Pull It salvage yard. These rules may include wearing appropriate clothing and footwear, using caution when handling tools and equipment, not smoking or using open flames, not bringing in outside parts for comparison, and not engaging in onsite vehicle repairs.
- Sign a liability waiver: All customers must sign a liability waiver form before entering the salvage yard. This form releases Yoho's U Pull It and its employees from any liability for injuries or damages that may occur while on the premises.
- Stay aware: It's essential to be constantly aware of your surroundings. Know where other people and your tools are at all times, and be prepared to act fast in the event of a mishap.
- Use appropriate tools: Almost all salvage yards will have a list of what tools are allowed. Don't bring anything that's not on the list. Avoid any tools with open flames or that could easily produce sparks. For example, at Yoho's U Pull It, jacks and lifting cars are not allowed, and no electric cutting devices are allowed in the auto salvage yard, including torches or grinders.
- Avoid alcohol or drug use: Avoid alcohol or drug use before visiting a salvage yard. Be sure to get a good night's rest the night before and come awake and alert.

By following these safety rules, visitors to Yoho's U Pull It salvage yard can help ensure a safe and successful visit.
